The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Authority for Biological and Biomedical Models

2014 - June

Notice

1) Information on a course in Ethics for Biologists and Clinical Investigators takes place in February 02 (\textit{Production of ethical use in laboratory animals}).

The course dates are between 02.04.2014 and 02.04.2014, between the hours of 10:00-13:00 and 14:00-16:00.

You can register for the course in January on the Authority's website: https://animals.ekmd.huji.ac.il/He/Pages/default.aspx

2) The training in "Ethical use in small cages" will take place on 02.04.2014 in the campus. You can register on the Authority's website: http://animals.huji.ac.il/courses/register.asp

For any questions, contact Tanya Farad @ savion.huji.ac.il

https://animals.ekmd.huji.ac.il/He/Pages/default.aspx

http://animals.huji.ac.il/courses/register.asp

tanyaf.savion.huji.ac.il
January Webinar Series
Models and Resources for Diabetic Research

How to Select and Maintain Mouse Models of Type 1 Diabetes
Join us on January 9, 2014

Everything but the Experiment: Tips for Working with Diabetic Mice
Join us on January 16, 2014

Keep Track of your Mice: The JAX Colony Management System (JCMS) Web Database Live Tutorial
Join us on January 23, 2014

Now available for Distribution: 49 mouse models derived from the EUCOMM project ES cells, and donated by the Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute to the MMRRC, were made available to order this month from the MMRRC repository. A complete listing of these strains can be found in the MMRRC Catalog under the Sanger EUCOMM Collection listing:

MMRRC Catalog Search Form